

BLEED

A diagram illustrating the layout of a book cover. It features a central light blue rectangular area divided into three vertical sections. The leftmost section is labeled 'BACK COVER', the middle section is labeled 'SPINE', and the rightmost section is labeled 'FRONT COVER'. The 'SPINE' label is oriented vertically. This central area is enclosed within a gray border. The word 'BLEED' is positioned at the top center of the gray border, indicating the area for the book's bleed-through.
